Report on TED Talk

“Could the Earth be swallowed by a black hole?”

The department of Physics and Electronics organized a TED-Talk for B.Sc. students on the Topic “Could the Earth be swallowed by a black hole?” on June 26, 2023 at 4.00 pm in the Seminar Hall No 01. The main objective of the Talk was to enlighten about Black Holes. A black hole is anything but empty space. Rather, it is a great amount of matter packed into a very small area. The result is a gravitational field so strong that nothing, not even light, can escape.

From asteroids capable of destroying entire species to supernovae that could exterminate life on Earth, outer space has no shortage of forces that could wreak havoc on our planet. But there's something in space that is even more terrifying than any of these - something that wipes out everything it comes near. Fabio Pacucci examines the probability of Earth being gobbled up by a black hole. At the end the queries raised by the students were answered by the faculty member of the department.
