REPORT ON TED TALK

“The Global Movement to Restore Nature’s Biodiversity”

As part of Institutions’ best practice, IQAC initiated Ted-Talk programme was organized by Department of Botany on 22/06/2023 in seminar hall no. 1 at 4:00pm. The ted-talk with title of “The Global Movement to Restore Nature’s Biodiversity” by Thomas Crowther was screened. The main theme was to motivate students to understand efforts going around the world to restore the lost glory of nature due to human interference knowingly or unknowingly. The talk source was from YouTube and it contained right ways of restoration process, needs and effects. Along with this talk, documentary of 5 most earth healing projects was screened to make students aware of large scale restoration programmes happening around the world. Pani foundation’s Satyameva Jayate Water Cup competition conducted in Maharashtra which was considered one of earths largest water restoration programme amazed the students. At the end students shared their opinion and felt if we humans can think and act in right way we can achieve anything. We have knowledge, science and technology which cumulatively can achieve any mammoth projects. What all needed is contribution from each either in planning or joining hands to achieve which seems impossible. Students were sensitized to believe large scale restoration of Nature’s Biodiversity is possible which looks impossible, it is we Human being who can do it. By this purpose of screening the Ted Talk was served. 201 students were present during the Ted-Talk screening.
